

METHOD OF GENERATING A COMPACT TEXT-TO-PHONE PRONUNCIATION DICTIONARY

5

Abstract of the Disclosure

A typical English pronunciation dictionary takes up to 1,826,302 bytes in ASCII to store. A five times compression while maintaining computability is achieved by prefix delta encoding of the word and error encoding of the pronunciation.

[illegible]